

Teens and Grief 2012

This programme will give insight into how teenagers respond to bereavement and loss and will explore some of the common misconceptions around teens and grief.

The objectives are as follows:

- Using current research and what young people are saying
- Look at the basics of grief theory and link it with the highly acclaimed Leeds Animation Workshop DVD
- Look at issues for teenagers when they are grieving

Some knowledge of bereavement theory would be helpful. May not be suitable for newly bereaved people as this course involves experiential learning.
